

CLINICAL ENGINEERING SERVICES

COMPANY PROFILE

Extreme Health Services was established IN 1994 by Norman Hancock who has been involved in the Medical and Dental Industry for the past twenty-five years who hails from a Medical background. Utilizing Clinical Engineering experience and has been applying his trade for more than twenty-five years in medical/dental with Project Management. The company is divided into two distinct business units, the one servicing the Dental industry and the other the Medical Industry, Health planning and Clinical Engineering professional services.

The company is synonymous with dedication to the supply of quality service and equipment to serve those who value the extra effort and time that we believe the Medical and Dental Professions deserve. Our staff trained overseas in all technical aspects of our equipment and is continually upgraded to ensure that we stay ahead of Technology to better inform and support the industries that we serve. We also possess vast experience in dealing with large projects as turnkey operators or as sub-contractors.

Extreme Health Services with the support of their World Leading Distributorships are able to supply equipment with a wide and varied scope of supply. We supply equipment to Hospitals, Clinics, Dental Practices, Hospital theaters, Frail care Institutions throughout South Africa and Africa.

We offer professional engineering services and recommendations for clinical and medical engineering as consultants.

Extreme Heath Services CC employs a qualified mechanical engineer to fulfill requirements such as ECSA drawing approval and also then qualifies for the suggested professional rate in relation to the stipulated fees as per government gazette and ECSA.

We are in the process to register our company/JV with GDID in Gauteng. This will be an automatic registration with Department of Health.
